FRANCO-AMERICAN FORCES THREATEN THE HINDENBURG LINE NEAR LAON AND ARE NEAR FOREST HIDING GIANT HUN CANNON

General Mangin Now Dominates German Positions Northeast of Soissons and Speedy Retirement From Vesle River Line to Point Ten Miles North Is Indicated.

GERMANS PLAN BIG WITHDRAWAL

LONDON, September 4.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Germans are contemplating a general retirement from the Vesle region where they have been facing the Americans and French along the river, according to indications reported late today. The recent Franco-American successes in the south apparently have prompted such a move.

HUNS RETREAT BEFORE FRENCH

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, September 4.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Germans are in retreat on the French front east of the Canal Du-Nord. French cavalry was in pursuit during last night and today and pushed to within two miles of Guiscard, on the Noyon-Ham road.

LENS DEFINITELY EVACUATED

LONDON, September 4, 4:25 p. m.—(Associated Press Cable)—The city of Lens has been definitely evacuated by the Germans, according to reports from northern France today. The British are refraining from occupying it because of the gas fumes remaining there.

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

The British have driven home their push through the Wotan line as far as the Canal Du-Nord, and as yet their progress is not reported checked.

Already the wedge they have driven into the German defenses in the sector between the railway centers of Douai and Cambrai is a menacing one to the enemy, who must stop the British on the canal line here if he hopes to save these bases—vital points in the German defensive system in the west.

Disorganization in the German ranks is reported in unofficial advices from the front, and there seems to be more than a possibility that the enemy command will not be able to reconstruct its defensive formations even in time to hold up the British temporarily along the canal positions.

APPROACHING FROM THE WEST

The main force of the British push seems to be in the direction of Cambrai, along both the Bapaume-Cambrai and Arras-Cambrai roads. In this area they are reported today to have taken the towns of Inchi-En-Artois, and Moeuvres. This represents an advance of three and one-half to four miles since yesterday, beyond the southern section of the famous "switch" line at Queant.

ADVANCING ALONG SOUTH FRONT

Further south the British, likewise, have reached the line of the canal down to the Somme, making their front along this waterway cover an extent of more than 20 miles. They are reported to have even crossed the canal along its southern length just to the north of Peronne.

The menace to both Cambrai and Douai may be indicated by the fact that the British are within 5 1-2 miles of the outskirts of the former and not more than six miles distant from the latter.

MAKE PROGRESS IN LYS SALIENT

The British have occupied additional towns in the Lys salient. The enemy's reported retirement in the sector south of LaBasse has not been confirmed, however, and the Germans apparently are still holding the greater part of the coal mining city of Lens in this area, although the British are understood to be in the western section of the town.

"CLOWN" PRINCE THE WISE GUY

Amsterdam, September 4.—(Associated Press Cable)—The German idea of victory as defined by the German Crown Prince in an interview published in a Budapest newspaper is an intention "to hold our own and not let ourselves be vanquished."

He is quoted as saying that this was clear to him the moment England entered the war.

Regiment physician inspecting the clothing of Yankee fighters for vermin. The men have just returned from a stay in the trenches.

NEARING FOREST HIDING GREAT GUN

On the French front General Mangin's army has made important progress in the direction of the Forest of St. Gobain, which defends Laon. His forces have reached the outskirts of the important town of Coudy-La-Chateau, and have pushed further eastward in their flanking movement to the north of Soissons.

MANGIN THREATENS HINDENBURG LINE

General Mangin now holds the key position to the Vesle front from which, if their movements are an indication of their plan of maneuver, the Germans plan to retire back to the Aisne or Chemin-Des-Dames.

The Germans have been forced out of the Ailette river sector and the main defenses of the Hindenburg line are endangered. A thrust by the Franco-American forces at this place would be a serious menace to the German lines south and east of Soissons.

"CLOSE TO THE WINNING POST"

LONDON, September 4.—(Associated Press Cable)—Paris newspapers today print the following semi-official statement:

"The hour seems close at hand when the superb efforts of the allies will begin to bear fruit. One of our great chiefs said yesterday that we are on the last lap and close to the winning post."

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, September 4.—Death sentence of ten negro soldiers who participated in the riots at Houston, Texas, August 23, 1917, have been commuted to life imprisonment by President Wilson.

In six other cases the President affirmed the death sentences because the condemned men had been found guilty of having deliberately and with great cruelty murdered civilians.

Taking up the military situation he said the object of the Canadian drive across the Queant-Drocourt line was Cambrai, which was now within a few miles of the British advances, according to official advices.

DIGS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, September 4.—The Farmers National Headquarters today made public a letter to President Wilson denouncing the recent charges of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States against the Federal Trade Commission as "precisely the sort of action we anticipated certain business in this country would take against the Federal Trade Commission because of its conspicuous aid to Democracy."

The letter says the commission may have erred in judgment on some points but has rendered a great service to the common people.

PLANS ALL MADE FOR REGISTRATION OF MEN 18 TO 45

Plans have all been made for the registration of all men between the ages of 18 years and 45 years, except those who have registered under previous drafts, on Thursday, September 12th, beginning at seven o'clock in the morning and continuing until 9:00 o'clock.

The present great successes of the allies in France, and the possibility of the war ending sometime next year will not make one iota of difference in the plans for the draft, and every man within the ages must register. If a man is too ill to get to the registration booth, he must arrange to register by applying for a card or otherwise notifying the Local Board of his inability to get to the registration booth.

All cards, both those to be filled out by the registrant, and the little blue cards given each registrant to show that he has registered, are on hand, together with all necessary blanks, etc., and these will be distributed to the Registrars in due time.

No man can be too busy to register, for if he does not register he is classed as a slacker, and his case is given prompt attention by the federal agents. 25,000 slackers have been dealt with severely since the beginning of the war, and many of them who would not have been sent away for military service if they had registered, are now in France, or soon will be.

WILL WATCH FOR SUNDAY SLACKERS

It is announced that quite a few "slackers" who wished to evade the gasolineless Sunday order of the government, and did so, made their trips before day-break on Sunday morning, and returned after dark.

The authorities are preparing for this form of evaders of the government order, and will be on the lookout for them next Sunday, both morning and night.

There is every indication that some pressure will be brought to bear on those who willfully violate the order.

The practice of yelling "slacker" also promises to increase where the cases of violation by pleasure riding are apparent.

SCHOOLS UNDER WAY IN PART OF COUNTY

The schools are under way in part of Fayette county, beginning Monday of this week, and on Monday of next week the schools in Marion, Madison and Green townships will open. The schools in Paint and Union will open at a later date.

There is still a shortage of teachers in the grades, and Supr. Nelson is very anxious to obtain a few additional teachers during the next few days.

The Germans suspected the strength of the Allies, but they never clearly knew it until the persistent pressure was brought into play. You will never know the real economy of Larimer Service until you use it persistently.

MEN WHO REGISTER

There has been considerable argument as to whether a man who has passed his 45th birthday and not attained his 46th birthday must register Sept. 12. All men who have attained their 18th birthday and have not yet reached their 46th birthday, and who have not previously registered, must register.

In other words a man must register even if September 12th is his 18th birthday, or even if he would reach his 46th birthday on the day following registration day.

The above is official and authorized by the Local Board, gistered, must register.

CEMETERY ADDITION NOT YET PLATTED

The cemetery addition of some eleven acres, located immediately west of the present cemetery, and which was purchased in somewhat of a hurry a couple of years ago so that it could be platted and made ready for use as the capacity of the present cemetery is becoming exhausted, is still unplatted, and so far there is no movement toward having it platted for some time to come.

This year the field was in wheat, and produced $179 worth of grain. It is understood that plans of the township trustees include having the field cultivated again next year, so that it will be at least a year before any grading and platting of the ground can be made if the plans are carried out.

Ordinarily it requires many years to convert a field into attractive grounds with suitable roadways, shrubbery, trees, etc.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., September 4.—That the many thousands of Red Cross knitters in the Lake Division, Red Cross, states of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, may know the plans of the Red Cross for future knitting, George E. Scott, acting manager of the American Red Cross, gives out the following statement to the Lake Division headquarters.

"When the War Industries Board some time ago advised the Red Cross that future production of knitting yarn would be greatly reduced we immediately commenced to purchase all yarns suitable for our knitting. As a result, we have today in stock or on order 1,400,000 pounds of yarn for distribution to chapters. It is hoped we may obtain some additional yarn from wool unsuitable for government uses. The expected total, however, will be considerable below 10,000,000 pounds used last year.

"While the total of yarn we can secure is being determined we are studying how to use our supply to produce only garments which are most essential. When a decision is reached we will announce our full knitting program.

"In addition to this stock of yarn the Red Cross has ready for distribution 1,600,000 sweaters, 134,000 mufflers, 384,000 wristlets, 228,000 helmets and 1,328,000 pairs of socks, a total of 3,674,000 articles. We hope, therefore, that these and such additional garments as we shall be able to make, will enable us to meet the more urgent requirements of our men during the coming winter.

"In this connection, it will be of interest to the women who have been knitting to know that from September 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, the Red Cross distributed 5,875,000 knitted garments to the army and navy of the United States. During the same period, 870,000 knitted articles were sent to the Red Cross commissioners in France and Italy for distribution to soldiers and civilians.

"At the request of the War Industries Board, with which the Red Cross works in close co-operation, we have urged chapters and individual workers not to buy wool in the open market, but to secure their materials through our department of supplies."

AUTO THIEVES FACING CHARGE FILED BY OWNER

Earl Jewett, colored, and Roby Willett and Nep Yates, white, Greenfield men who were arrested in this city early Tuesday morning while in an intoxicated condition and with a stolen automobile in their possession, were removed to Greenfield by the marshal of that town, Tuesday night, after they had been fined $5 and the costs each, in this city on charges of being intoxicated.

The three men are now facing the more serious charge of stealing the automobile from C. H. Patterson's garage in Greenfield, and it is expected that the action will reveal the thief who recently entered the Price garage in the same town and succeeded in getting away with many valuable tools and automobile accessories.

The trio are not new ones to the police in their home town, and in making the arrest it is believed that a very bad bunch of crooks has been rounded up.

Walter Willett, brother of Roby Willett, is said to have been the fourth member of the party, and made his escape. He is now being sought by the authorities.

VISITING RULES AT CAMP SHERMAN

New rules concerning the visiting hours in Camp Sherman were issued yesterday by Col. Tyree Rivers, camp commandant. The new rules allow visitors through the camp on Sundays and on week days between the hours of 5:30 and 10:30 p. m. No civilians however will be allowed to enter the barracks.

The men must walk in the paths alongside the road. Military police have been instructed to arrest violators of the order.

WALNUT TIMBER WANTED BY U. S.

The United States Government is after walnut timber, and is paying a good price for such timber, which will be used for gun stocks and airplane propellers.

A call has been made for the Red Cross to assist in locating this timber in all parts of the country.

Many lumber mills are engaged in buying and sawing this timber for the government, and all owners of Walnut trees are urged to communicate at once with lumber mills engaged in supplying the government with walnut timber.

The call is urgent.

SUGAR FOR CANNING MAY BE SECURED

To Consumers of Sugar for Canning:

Consumers of sugar for canning may get an amount that absolutely covers their present needs, by applying to the local Food Administration.

Those who have not gotten 25 pounds for canning will be allowed this amount, if needs require, without application, but if more is desired application must be made and approved before sugar is obtainable.

Retailers are not to sell to anyone more than 25 pounds without the approval of the local committee.

Additional members, in rural districts, are being added to the committee in order that those who are at a distance from Washington may obtain sugar without so much inconvenience.

Consumers may come or retailers may send their customers either to the County Auditor's office or to the office of Mayor Dahl to have their requisitions approved, at the present time.

Later the names of those appointed as members of the committee in the rural districts will be published.

WINS THREE MEDALS

"DEVIL DOG" DAN DALY

"Devil Dog" Dan Daly, first sergeant of the United States Marines, who has been awarded the coveted Congressional Medal of Honor three times, and also the Distinguished Service Cross by General Pershing.

During the Boxer Rebellion this fighting Yankee first distinguished himself on the night of July 15, 1900 when he volunteered to remain alone and under fire in a Pekin bastion, which he held until aid came. For this and his conduct during the siege of Pekin, and for his initiative at the Battle of Pekin, August 14, he was awarded his first Congressional Medal.

During the outbreak in Haiti Daly won his second medal. At odds of ten to one he led a squad against Fort Dipitie, Haiti. The men were fighting desperately in absolute darkness. The outcome meant either annihilation or success. At daybreak they advanced, their steady fire disorganizing the Cacos. In a short time they captured the fort and burned it and other buildings from which the enemy had been coming.

In France Daly displayed his fearlessness on three different occasions. Once at the risk of his life he extinguished a fire in an ammunition dump. Again, under heavy fire, he visited all the gun crews to cheer his men. At another time he attacked an enemy machine gun emplacement unaided and captured it.

SHERMAN STRIKES! AT ADMINISTRATION

(American Press) Washington, Sept. 4.—An attack on President Wilson and his administration and, particularly, Colonel Tamm, the president's personal friend and adviser, was made in the senate by Senator Sherman (Rep.) of Illinois.

With ironical references to the president's recent statement that politics is adjourned, the senator asserted that, having elected the president "almost single handed," Colonel House and a coterie of Texas politicians "are in the saddle and they are doing politics in the same old way."

Under pretense of war powers, he said, the administration is placing control of the country in the hands of a few politicians and labor leaders, to be used relentlessly for the election of party candidates now and a president in 1920. "I denounce," he added, "a political autocracy covertly engaged when the nation is in the stress of war in undermining institutional civil liberty."

In criticizing Colonel House, Senator Sherman said as personal representative envoy of the president while abroad he "exercised unofficial and usurped powers of government," and "his gratuitous advice to settle the U-boat dispute provoked the derision of Germany and the impatience of the allies."

Declaring the administration seeks even to dictate Republican candidates in Republican states, the senator said: "Ford is to be made senator from Michigan by executive order."

Secretary Baker was referred to as "one who thinks of the war as 3,000 miles away, talks glibly of quantity production of combat airplanes, delays three months the draft law amendment of 1918, opposes universal military training and says Washington's soldiers at Valley Forge were drunkards and chicken thieves, only to be declared by executive proclamation to be the most capable official that distinguished functionary ever knew."

Regarding Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Senator Sherman said he had made "some sparkling contributions to trade," including the "shocking information that the high cost of living was caused by too many delivery wagons, an epic on fish and clams, along with a sonnet or two on sheep-killing dogs."

Former Secretary Bryan, the senator declared, resigned when he had "played second fiddle long enough and 'his power for harm had waned.'"

"Politics began there and it's never adjourned since in domestic affairs," said Mr. Sherman. "Was there ever a more sordid revelation of selfish, time-serving politics with the first executive office, next only to the president, shuffled about as plunder to suit partisan ends?"

How Does Germany Hold Out?

For more than a year now the world has been asking how Germany is able to hold out in the face of the enormous losses suffered in men and treasure and the frightful shortage in foodstuffs and every necessary of life. During the last few months that question has been asked oftener than ever before, because the tide of war has definitely commenced to run strong against the German forces and the inevitable end is no longer a matter about which there is, or can be, any doubt, save only with the deluded German people.

The Germans are permitted to know nothing save what the war lords approve. They are told that every defeat is a victory and the truth is kept from them. They are not able to draw their conclusions from existing facts because they are not given the facts, and they would be incapable mentally of forming any opinion of their own even if they had the facts, because for nearly half a century they have been taught to do no thinking at all. The war lords have not only suppressed the truth but have issued false statements of fact and drawn, from those false statements, the conclusions for the people.

Germany will "hold out" just as long as the war lords decree that it shall and they, knowing the fate which awaits them, will hold out until they are taken and tried and punished, as the most colossal murderers in all history.

Time For Cheerfulness

This is no time for indulgence in that over-confidence which leads to neglect of duty, but it is a time for the allied nations to realize their successes and realizing those successes, redouble their efforts to bring the final victory.

We believe that a proper feeling of optimism now will be helpful rather than harmful. There was a period when realization of the enormity of the task which confronted us could best be compelled by facts and comment by no means cheering or encouraging. In fact there was little or nothing for many months, after America's entry into the war, to justify any feeling of optimism. With cruel consistency the tides of battle ran against the allied armies.

The need of America's tremendous power was urgent and evident. The actual and unfavorable developments, together with the wholly justified pessimistic comment and prophecy, served its purpose well. The people were aroused to a realization of the enormity of the task they had undertaken, they put forward every effort and accomplished wonders, the lines of the allies held and America arrived in time.

Now the developments are cheering. The German hordes have been stopped, defeated and turned back. The armies of the allies are sweeping forward in a succession of brilliant victories. The Hun war machine is crumbling to ruin under the constant hammering of the allies and there is a possibility, now that the Hindenburg line has been crossed, north and south, that the enemy will be driven out of France before winter slows up the advancing allies.

We believe that the good news and the cheering comment will encourage us all to greater effort and greater sacrifices to bring the war to victory which now, for the first time, seems not far away.

The Difference

The request of the government that people forego automobile riding on Sundays to conserve vital war necessities and the eagerness with which the people have expressed their willingness and desire to comply with that request recalls the splendid spirit with which the American people have met every request of the government.

The American people were requested (not ordered) to reduce the consumption of wheat, of sugar, of coal and a score of other necessities. They met those requests promptly and complied with them in spirit and in letter. The result is known and that result is one of the main foundation stones upon which has been reared the great structure of allied army successes.

How different from the enemy. The German government does not request anything from the German people. It orders and commands and enforces its orders by the mailed fist and the bloody bludgeon of military power. The people submit because they are forced to do so—they do it not eagerly, not willingly, but under compulsion. They do not even understand why the order is issued. They are not consulted.

That difference in conditions alone is sufficient to explain the growing power of the allied nations and the marked slowing up in the driving power of the Huns.

Poetry For Today

THE WORKMAN AND THE KING

(A Legend of Solomon's Temple)

Once on a time a stately temple rose
 Far o'er the city's stretch of winding walls—
 Built by the skilled and dextrous hand of him
 Who from the centuries past his cunning won.
 The master craftsman laid aside his tools,
 The laborer rested, with his work well done;
 The city gazed upon the sacred pile
 The King, the Nation, stood in silence all.

For now the wondrous temple, all complete,
 Stood ready for its sacred rites whereby
 The nation's heavy sins were blotted out
 And High Jehovah's grace for all was gained.
 Across the front a swelling veil was drawn,
 And on a throne of state the King would sit;
 And when this veil was later drawn aside
 Then would the people all in loud acclaim
 Hail as their sovereign him who sat enthroned.

Slow lifting and slow parting moved the veil
 And glimpses of the wondrous throne were seen—
 But look what vision is it greets the eye!
 For there, instead of throned and sceptered king
 With jeweled crown and robes of royal state,
 Sits on that throne a Workman, son of Toil,
 In all the strength and power of a man,
 And by his side the hammer that he swung
 That the great temple that they saw might be!

Then said the king, by law—true man by right—
 Who measured things by rules of homely truth:
 "See you, my people, where the honor lies,
 See you the Worker, who the real King is!
 Give Him first place of honor in your heart,
 And, keeping Labor first, so shall you live
 In length of days and favor of your God."
 —E. L. HITCHENS.

GET APPLES EARLY CROP NOT ABUNDANT

On account of the scarcity of barrels and other packages for the packing of apples Fayette citizens may help in the conservation of material and packing by buying their apples early and in bulk. It will be necessary, however, to provide good storage.

Apple barrels are quoted at 80 cents each and cost more in small numbers. Bushel baskets cost $2.50 a dozen. Both are relatively scarce. This will mean that a smaller number of apples will be packed, that more attention will be given to grading, and that apples in packages will bring a higher price than usual. The consumer, therefore, may find it easier in early fall to lay in his winter's supply at a much lower price than later and will also help in the conservation of labor and packing materials.

AMERICA, FRANCE AND ENGLAND TO BE LEAGUE'S BASIS

(Associated Press Correspondence)

LONDON, August 20.—"The United States, Great Britain and France will be the foundation of any League of Nations and they must accept this burden at once," declared Sir Francis Trippel to an Associated Press correspondent. Sir Francis recently issued an appeal for the immediate formation in England of a "Council for the Advocacy of a League of Nations."

"The first thing to be done, is to divest the scheme of illusions," he said. "A League of Nations is not an absolute substitute for war. It is not an absolute guarantee of peace. It does not mean, for the present, total disarmament. It cannot be a 'forgive and forget' panacea."

"A League of nations must have the power to enforce its decrees. That is the crux of the whole question. If it has not, it will go the way of all the rest."

"Its chief function will be to remove the causes of war. It must make it easy for nations to co-operate and hard to stand alone. If a nation knows that the League has no power to enforce its decrees, it has scant respect or scruple for it."

"Does anyone in his senses believe that such a League is even remotely possible with a dominant Germany? She is the pariah nation of an angered world. If the fight ends in a draw, she remains dominant. If it ended tomorrow, she would snap her fingers at the ideals of the universe. Germany, as she is, is a menace to the world's peace."

"No propaganda is more important at the present time than the propaganda of the League of Nations. And its existence depends upon Germany's defeat at her own particular game—the game of war."

"A council for the advocacy of a League of Nations will be necessary in every country as far as possible. If imperialistic tendencies and dynastic desires for conflict are to be checked, we can begin at any rate with the United States, France and Great Britain. These three Western democracies are bound to form an influential portion of any League of Nations in the near future."

"A Preliminary Council for Great Britain should be formed from public men of all opinions."

AMERICANS IN BRITISH LISTS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
London, August 17.—The British "Navy List" which has just appeared is the first official publication of the kind to contain the names of certain American Naval officers. They are included in the British list because they have been attached to certain Admiralty departments for special work.

The list of "Ships and Vessels of the Royal Navy" shows still further increase from the very impressive and lengthy list of a year ago, although the regular warships are no longer set down, and the list is limited to vessels taken over by the Admiralty for the duration of the war.

One page, which used to be devoted to the names of three honorary "Admirals of the Fleet" has shrunk to a single paragraph and a single name. It used to include the German Emperor, Prince Henry of Prussia and the Emperor of Russia. The first two have been crossed out altogether, while Nicholas who used to be listed as "His Majesty II, Emperor of all the Russians," is now merely "His Majesty Emperor Nicholas."

AUTOS ARE NOT USED IN ENGLAND

(Associated Press Correspondence)

London, August 18.—In England the war has relegated the automobile to the garage and brought the horse back into its own. Owing to gasoline restrictions, taxicabs are becoming extremely scarce in London and the hansom cabs of the old days have been restored to popularity.

Dealers in dogcarts, gigs, traps, carriages and all other kinds of horse-drawn conveyances are reaping a big profit. For six months prices have been going up steadily, until vehicles which were for disposal at firewood prices owing to the vogue of the motor car, are now fetching more than they cost when they were new.

Members of the royal family use horse-drawn conveyances, and the munition millionaire, denied a motor except for war work, is investing in a carriage and pair.

NATION SEEKING A NEW SCHOOL SITE FOR 1200 STUDENTS

Training Camp for 1200 Truck Drivers for the Army to be Established at Once. An Opportunity for Washington.

The government wants some Ohio city to provide a suitable location for a training school for a detachment of 1200 army truck operators.

Buildings for housing and classes, drill grounds, parking space and good roads are the requisites for the proposed school.

The request on behalf of the government is made by the field committee on education and special training. The equipment and instructors for the school will be furnished by the committee.

If any city, chamber of commerce civic body or other has a location to place at the disposal of the government which would meet the needs for the school, notice of this should be sent to Frank B. Pearson, state superintendent of public instruction. Columbus and other cities are already making preparations to secure the plant which will bring a great amount of business to the community securing it.

Many Washington folks are wondering why this city, an ideal place in every particular, can't get this government establishment.

It can if a few influential Washington men will set determinedly to work to land it.

OHIO CONFERENCE SHORT OF PASTORS

According to a letter sent out by Dr. J. C. Jackson, of the Chillicothe District, Ohio Conference, there are 12 churches in the district without ministers, and the likelihood of additional churches being without pastors was looming up ahead.

Dr. Jackson calls attention to the small salaries being paid many of the ministers, not only in the Chillicothe District of the Conference, but in some of the other districts, and urges the necessity of increasing salaries materially in such cases, in order to insure the church being supplied with a pastor. In at least one instance the salary of a pastor who has a circuit in the Chillicothe District was about $400 per annum. Some pastors, according to the letter, have been forced to enter other work in order to support their families, and one of them is now digging coal for a living.

When the 107th Ohio Conference meets in Portsmouth September 18th, there is reason to believe the Conference will face the most serious shortage of ministers in a great many years and that many of the churches will be without regular pastors as a result. Some 200 ministers are in the conference.

CORN CUTTING IS ON IN EARNEST

Corn cutting is now on in real earnest in Fayette county, and it is expected that it will be a much shorter job than usual, owing to the smaller ears and, generally, thinner stand of the corn.

The demand for corn cutters is considerably less than last year, and the supply is expected to about meet the demand throughout the corn cutting season.

By beginning early and making rapid headway, if the weather permits, the fields will be cleared of the standing corn in short order and the ground be ready for wheat seeding.

BURGLARS ENTER BRIGGS RESTAURANT

Burglars entered the Briggs restaurant near the Union Station, some time late Tuesday night, and in addition to tapping the till for some eight dollars in small change, stole half a ham, several pies and other food.

The burglars entered the place by removing a glass from one of the front windows.

It is believed that the work was that of boys, and the police started to work Wednesday morning to ferret out the guilty parties.

U. S. ARMY MEN REVIEW STATUS

(American Press)

Washington, Sept. 4.—The object of the present drive of the allied forces, as army men here see it, will be to hammer the enemy out of the center of the western line, push him on past the old Hindenburg line and, if plans carry, to sweep him out of northern France before winter sets in. With Americans progressing past Juvigny, it is likely they will soon reach the Chemin des Dames. This will form one firm jaw of the pincers. On the northern end of the battle line the British and American operations are laying the basis for another mighty jaw of the pincers. In between the German position grows more perilous constantly, and it is only a question of a brief time before he is moved backward to the old Hindenburg defense.

Events are now shaping so that there appears no doubt that General March's predictions of the 1918 victory will come true. However, one of the insidious features of the international problem just now is the most test German endeavor to start a big peace offensive. German authorities, including the kaiser, are talking peace. This offensive is destined to become stronger this winter.

According to reports from the front reaching here, the German retirement heretofore conducted with utmost military skill was getting out of hand. Under the terrific pressure of the British and French armies all along the line from Ypres to Soissons, the enemy apparently is being forced to a more precipitate withdrawal, particularly on the old Drocourt-Queant front.

The official announcement from London that more than 10,000 prisoners have been taken in two days fighting on this front in itself indicates, it is said, that there is growing disorganization in the German ranks.

There is wide speculation among officers as to what new developments of the battle are to be expected. It was clearly evident that observers believe the time is fast approaching when General Pershing's first field army will participate in the battle, on the theory that General Foch has been holding this new and vigorous force for a decisive blow when the time was ripe. As to where or when that blow would be delivered, however, there was wide variance of opinion.

The British now have broken a decided gap in the old German fortified line and the fall of Cambrai, Douai, St. Quentin and several other rail and road centers upon which the Hindenburg line depended seems imminent. If the enemy intended to fall back on this line when he was forced into a general withdrawal along his whole front from Rheims to Ypres, his chances are rapidly dwindling, as the British lines surge forward at the very center of the great battle front.

OLD RULES APPLY TO THE NEW DRAFT

(American Press)

Washington, Sept. 4.—No changes are contemplated in the basic rules governing the operation of the draft in the case of men included under the new age limits. This was indicated by Provost Marshal General Crowder, who, after a visit with General March, chief of staff, explained that the principles which prevailed in the selection of men between the ages of 21 and 31 would be retained in large measure for the guidance of those operating the selective machinery. There will be some changes, however, in the details relating to men engaged in certain industries, and more especially to men of more mature age included in the new registration. Whether arrangements will be made which will automatically exempt railroad men and coal miners as a body can not yet be stated.

WAR WORK ACTIVITY

Where The Enlisted Man

Renews Home Ties.

"Not government money built it. It was built and financed by individual efforts. A beautiful spot, a bit of home for enlisted men," this is Mary Roberts Rinehart's tribute to the Camp Sherman Community Project, and she adds in speaking of the Red Cross Community House, "For it is for the enlisted man. Officers may use it and do. But its primary purpose was to give to the private soldier a place where he may take his visitors. For himself alone there are the Y. M. C. A. halls, which are his clubs. For his sweetheart, when she visits him, for his parents or his wife—there is this great building."

More and more people are realizing that the Camp Sherman Community is a mighty factor in the development of that spirit which will make the world safe for our Republic.

The history of the establishing of the Camp Sherman Community is well known. One visit to the Community center as it now stands, the Red Cross Community House the pivot, is all that is necessary to convince one of the great value of this project and that the money expended has been well used.

The Camp Sherman Community now consists of eight buildings—the seven outside of the Red Cross building, are dormitories and contain sleeping rooms as follows: Masonic Building, 36 rooms; D. C. A. Building, 64 rooms; Y. W. C. A. Building, 34 rooms; Columbus Building, 36 rooms; Cincinnati Building 46 rooms; Cleveland Building 46 rooms; General Glenn Building 44 rooms.

This gives a total of 383 rooms capable of accommodating 600 guests. Three or four additional buildings can be used to great advantage to round out the proposition and to provide living quarters for the families of men in the service who can only remain in Camp for a very short time.

Major General Glenn was much gratified upon his return from abroad to find the work progressing as he had hoped it would.

He said, "It would not have happened if the women of Ohio had not backed it and it will fail if they do not continue to stand behind it." "Not a single officer of the cantonment thought this thing practical at the beginning, and yet every officer has since announced that it is practical and one of the best things they have ever seen."

"No one thing connected with this cantonment has given me more contentment; has been more practical, more protective and therefore a greater aid to discipline than this building."

Don't Travel.

Director General McAdoo's injunction to the public, "Don't Travel," is an appeal for economy quite as necessary as have been Mr. Hoover's exhortations to the people to save wheat and sugar. He does not say so, but he implies that the recent increase in railroad fares was ordered, not as was commonly supposed primarily to increase the revenues of the railways, but to discourage unnecessary trips by rail. This experiment having failed he appeals to that spirit of patriotism which has never failed in the past, and is not likely to fail now, to bring about the desired results. The enormous movement of troops and freight consequent upon the sending of the army to France, and upon the preparations for its maintenance and for the prosecution of the war, has already put the railroad facilities of the country to a severe test, in addition to the normal and unavoidable stimulation of travel due to feverish industrial activities and the business of the various military cantonments. These things have made travel under the best of circumstances uncomfortable and difficult, so that it is hard to imagine any one engaging in it merely for pleasure. Even the lot of the commuter, who has to stand morning and evening on his trips from and to the suburban regions, has found that out to his sorrow.

The Colonial is showing for the last time tonight a strong photo drama, "The Blindness of Divorce." It is a play that shows the gravity of the divorce evil in such a graphic manner that it will stir the conscience of any community, insuring an appreciation of the gravity of the divorce problem and a higher standard of personal morality.

The United States is considered a nation of home-breakers. Government statistics show that more divorces are granted in the United States than in any other country, with the single exception of Japan. "The Blindness of Divorce," is a photo play—a wonderful photo drama presenting the danger of divorce in a startling manner.

The first showing Tuesday night met with the approval of large audiences.

CHAIRMAN NAMED

(American Press)

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4.—Chairman of six Ohio districts in the Y. W. C. A. war work campaign have been appointed, as follows: Mrs. J. E. Wilhelms, Canton; Miss Caroline Greyfogle, Columbus; Mrs. T. J. Davis (Chadwell), Mrs. Louise J. Leuthi, Toledo; Mrs. J. J. Hoopes, Springfield; Mrs. James N. Fleming, Cleveland. Districts are made to follow the main centers of war industry.

An army of girls in war industries already musters the strength of the American army overseas, according to the announcement by Mrs. W. W. Millar of Akron, state chairman of the Y. W. C. A. war work campaign. There are 1,500,000 women in service here. The government has asked the Y. W. C. A. to form war service centers in 22 munition camps of the country, so that the girl laborers will have proper recreation.

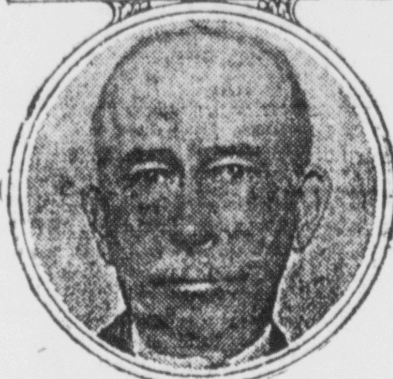

MIAMI'S OPENING

Young men and women of this city and county who contemplate entering Miami University this fall will be interested to know that the institution will not open until September 17.

This postponement of one week has been found necessary in order to meet the Government requirements in housing the men, and to reorganize courses of study under the Student's Army Training Corps regulations; also on account of the military registration of September 12.

HOOSIER WHEAT DRILLS AT W. W. WILSON & SON.

Walter Hines Page, American Ambassador to Great Britain since 1913, has resigned on account of ill health. The resignation has been accepted by President Wilson. Mr. Page has borne a heavy burden of the war work of the Embassy during the war. It has been suggested in official circles at Washington that President Wilson may ask his friend and adviser, Colonel E. M. House, to take the post.

BENEFITS CLERKS AND LABORERS

(American Press)

Washington, Sept. 4.—Nearly 1,000,000 men, or half the railroad employees in the United States, share in additional wage increases approved by Director General McAdoo for track laborers, watchmen, other maintenance of way employees, clerks, station agents and other classes of employees drawing relatively low pay.

The new increases, the second granted in supplement to the government's general wage order, will add nearly $100,000,000 to the annual railroad pay bills, it is said. Most of the increases range from 10 to 30 per cent above present wages.

The director general adopted most of the recommendations of the board on railway wages and working conditions, which investigated request of employees for more pay. Pay increases for railway telegraphers are the subject of another report to be made soon to the director general.

Garnisheering railroad employees' pay was forbidden by Mr. McAdoo as a means of eliminating much legal work heretofore necessary. At the same time it was made clear that employees who do not pay their bills will be dismissed.

THIS AGED WOMAN

Was Made Strong by a Simple Remedy.

The following letter from Mrs. Wells adds another link to the great chain of evidence which proves that there is nothing equal to Vinol to create strength for feeble, weak, run-down nervous conditions.

Malone, N. Y.—"I am 84 years of age and got into a feeble, weak and nervous condition so I could not sleep. Vinol has not only built up my strength, but it has given me a good appetite and I sleep all right now."—Mrs. S. B. Wells.

We strongly recommend it. Blackmer & Tanquary and druggists everywhere. Advt.
